WANDERINGS

by GEORGETTE B. HALL

Remember the little story we ran not so long ago about young Dirk Brenske and his venture into the chicken business? Dirk started off with a yard full of baby chicks. Even baby chicks grow, and the youngster now has a yard full of laying chickens. His business got off with a bang last week when he sold a total of six dozen eggs. By Tuesday of this week this energetic boy had already reported twenty-five dozen eggs sold to satisfied customers. Dirk can be reached at the Pine Burr Restaurant. Congratulations are certainly in order for Dirk whose adventure into business is proving interesting as well as profitable.

Miss Hilda Russell, who is in nurses training at Hotel Dieu in New Orleans enjoyed the week-end in Waveland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Russell and family.

Mrs. Shirley Bourgeois is re-operating after an automobile accident which sent her to the hospital with fractured ribs and cuts in her face. Her many friends will be glad to see her home again in the very near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Brockman and children have returned to Hattiesburg after spending four days in Waveland as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Sr. Brockman worked in Gulfport and Biloxi in connection with his work with the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

TIDE TABLE

For Week of March 22 to March 28

	HIGH	LOW
Friday	4:42 PM	3:47 AM
Saturday	5:48 PM	4:49 AM
Sunday	6:58 PM	4:40 AM
Monday	8:17 PM	6:17 AM

Wednesday	10:40 PM	6:41 AM
Thursday	12:20 PM	6:34 AM
	11:51 AM	6:10 PM

Some old story—rains have again affected fishing this week. However, things should be better by the weekend. The tides will be changing with low tides in the afternoon which is better for fly fishing.

Tony Scoloro, of Chicago, Ill., has been visiting his cousin, Frank Trapani for the past couple of weeks. Tony is not much of an active sportsman but has gotten a kick out of talking with fishermen and oystermen, getting the low down on how they catch them, etc., so he can tell the folks back home about the fish life on the Gulf Coast. Tony visited the Mardi Gras in New Orleans while here. He expects to visit Dallas, Texas, before returning home. He likes the Gulf Coast he says.

Louis Moreau caught some nice speckles on the R. R. Bridge last week. He was proudly displaying a 4 1/2 pound speckle he caught Thursday on a plug.

Bobby Camors and Teddy Stechmann tried the green trout last Wednesday. Don't think they did so hot.

Bud Phillips says the bass and perch had better be on their guard. He's going after them Wednesday and will get 'em if he has to resort to earth worms!

NOT A BAD CATCH!

The above picture shows Watson Johns, Sr., with a string of Black Bass he caught at Mulatto Bayou last week. Watson is a natural when it comes to catching fish, he fly fishes, casts and trolls and know his stuff when it comes to getting his share.

Folks like different kinds of sports. One is gardening and Clarence Tudury, Harold Bates, the Comperta Brothers, Norman and Joe, always have a good garden each year. Homegrown vegetables can't be beat, they say.

Bill Casey tried his luck up Jordan River Sunday. He caught several fish but the prize was a 4 pound red fish which Bill landed on a spinning rod using a six pound test line.

Henry Grady Turner, of Jackson with the Southern Bell Telephone Company, ran into a snag while attending a banquet at Biloxi Friday night. He spoke of liking fishing and golfing and received several offers to come down and do both at the Bay. Better accept, Grady. We'll be looking for you!

MISSISSIPPI'S GREAT RENEWABLE RESOURCE IS GROWING IN THE WOODS

Nature's blessings to Mississippi are many. Our State and our trees enjoy the benefits of ample moisture, mild temperature, fertile soil, and thoughtful, progressive people. The bulk of Mississippi timber is young and thrifty, springing up as if by magic at every turn. Mississippi, in 1955 enjoyed an income of nearly 350 million dollars from the cutting, processing and sale of its wood products. During 1955 there were 77 and one-half million seedlings planted in Mississippi. Production of tree seedlings was up in 1956 and will be nearly double the 1955 quantity in the 1957 planting.

Go-getters rarely understand individuals whose principles compel them to forego opportunities.

Students Hear Talk By Mayor On Safety

Mayor John Scallie recently addressed the student body concerning safety on the streets and highways. Mayor Scallie mentioned his deep concern about the increasing number of accidents on the city's highways. He stressed the point that teenagers are responsible for a high percentage of them. Fatal accidents are more common to teenagers than to any other age group. The mayor also stated that, "Laws are no better than the attitudes of the people they govern," trying to impress the students with the importance of which caused the requirement for driver's licenses, by highway signs, safety seats and belts and proper maintenance of vehicles. The booklet were made through the courtesy of the City of Bay St. Louis.

NEW BERMUDA PROVES WORTH

Coastal Bermuda grass, a relative new forage crop has proved to be well adapted for use in Mississippi. In a series of tests this new grass produced much better forage yields than either Dallas grass or common Bermuda. In addition to high yields some other advantages are: more erect growth for better hay making, more tolerance to light frosts, deeper root penetration for drought resistance, more disease resistance, faster growth and quicker ground cover. One of the chief disadvantages of Coastal Bermuda is that it is a hybrid which makes practically no seed and therefore must be sprigged, and a well prepared seedbed is required to get the crop started.

HOME
AGENT'S
NOTES

by
IDA LAURA GARRAWAY
Home Demonstration Agent
Hancock County

Next time you buy meat—beef, veal, calf, lamb or mutton, look for two kinds of stamps on it. The long purple ribbon like stamp with the grade name enclosed in a shield, as U. S. D. A. Good, indicates the quality. The round stamp that says "U. S. Ins'd and P.S.D." is the symbol of Federal meat inspection and indicates that the meat was Federally inspected and passed on wholesome food.

Look for both, but do not confuse the stamps. A U. S. D. A. booklet on U. S. Grades of Beef is available for the asking at your home demonstration agent's office. It will give you more facts on meat selection and use. Ask for leaflet No. 310.

ON THE GRAIN

Good fit and hang in clothes depends on grain perfection. "Grain Perfection" is keeping the lengthwise and the crosswise grain of the fabric in balance.

(at right angles) at all times. Properly made, a garment constructed of fabric cut along the grain, and pressed in this important object in view at all times.

The threads from which fabric is made from what is called the "grain" in woven fabric. No matter what the weave or texture appears to be, the threads always cross each other at right angles. The lengthwise threads (warp) are parallel with the selvage. This is the lengthwise grain or "straight of goods." The crosswise thread (weft, wool, filling) running from selvage to selvage, is known as the crosswise grain. When you use a pattern, you will note a marking "straight of goods." This mark must be placed on a thread parallel with the selvage (the lengthwise grain).

DRAPERIES "CHANGE" WINDOW SIZE

You can often make a problem window fit in with your decoration scheme by using a curtain style that makes it seem wider, narrower, shorter or longer. To make small windows look larger, hang side draperies on the wall so they just cover the frame. If your windows are wider than you want them, hang the draperies to the inside so they cover the frame and part of the pane.

The longer the curtains, the longer the window seems. Straight-line draperies that hang to the floor make a window appear to

UREL PLANT ADDS
DOLLARS TO STATE ECONOMY

In the early 1920's W. H. Mason put into commercial operation his recently invented process of removing rosin and turpentine from the pine lumber. As his business grew, turpentine plants were built in other towns, and he saw that slab, edgings and sawdust were being consumed in great burners that billowed forth columns of fire and smoke day and night as the sawmills gobbled up the virgin forests of Mississippi. He began research that led to the development of a useful and extremely durable hardboard, and eventually means were devised whereby the hardboard could be manufactured on a commercially profitable basis—thus the Masonite Corporation was formed, improved its production methods and greatly expanded its volume.

To make a long window look shorter, use short draperies or tie-back curtains. Curved lines of tie-back curtains detract from the height of the opening.

KITCHEN NOTE
Common table salt added to the water container section of a double boiler will increase the temperature of the boiling water and so lessen the time necessary to cook the food in the inner container.

M's recipe calls for sour milk and only sweet milk is available. Two tablespoons of vinegar to each cup of sweet milk. Let stand a few minutes. Sour milk will result.

TO THE HON. LESLIE E. GRANT,
CIRCUIT JUDGE PRESIDING:

We, the Grand Jury of Hancock County, Mississippi, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged at the Term aforesaid by your Honor, beg leave to submit this our formal report. We have been in session for 2 days during which time we have examined 18 witnesses, have investigated 5 cases and have returned 5 indictments.

We find generally that law enforcement conditions in Hancock County are in good condition and so far as we are able to ascertain, the officers of the County are conducting their offices in a fit and proper manner.

We have inspected the Court-house and Jail and we find that the County Jail is in good condition and the prisoners are well cared for. During the course of our inspection of the courthouse we find that the main Courtroom is in need of painting and we strongly urge the Board of Supervisors to take immediate steps for the restoration and preservation of our main courtroom.

We have investigated the plans for the building of a new County Home and we find that the contract is to be let in the near future and we find that these plans will provide Hancock County with a modern up-to-date place to house the indigent, sick and needy.

And now, having concluded our labors we respectfully beg to stand finally discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
MALVIN LADNER,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.

"THINK BIG" NEED OF STATE TO KEEP LEAD

A 20-year blueprint for sparking Mississippi industrialization will have to double its progress in order to match advances of the past 20 years. Keen competition from other areas has made it essential to that Mississippi secure as many new plants by 1957 as it has in the past two decades. College should prepare students for introduction into Mississippi industries, also, additional research funds to "discover" the extent of the state's resources. What we need in Mississippi is not more taxes to business, but more business to tax.

DELTA MAY DEVELOP
SHORTAGE OF WATER

The Yazoo Delta may develop serious water shortages unless "steps are taken reasonably soon" to replenish underground water reserves, as the pumping of water supplies in the Delta. About 1,200 wells had been drilled by the end of 1956 and that measurement showed that the irrigation wells lowered underground water levels. Despite some pessimistic predictions that will not be able to meet the large prospective demand for water, the situation is not, as a whole, dark. Though knowledge of the water resources is expanding.

Mr. Gibbons is a member of the Division Board of Directors, Chairman of District Thirteen and Publicity Chairman of the one County Unit where he takes an active part in all phases of the cancer control program.

In accepting the post, Mr. Gibbons stated, "I am proud to be associated with such a magnificent public effort. Cancer, man's cruellest enemy, annually takes a toll of 250,000 lives. Thousands of these persons could have been saved by prompt treatment had they known the life saving facts about cancer and acted in time."

Mr. Gibbons stated that the meeting for this area will be held at the Community Center in Hattiesburg at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday, March 16. Representatives from twenty counties in the southern region have been invited to participate in this planning meeting. The Cancer Crusade which will begin April 1, according to the Area Chairman.

"At the Hattiesburg meeting," Mr. Gibbons continued, "We discuss not only fund raising and educational techniques, but equally important, will cover fully the need for the funds which are to be solicited to carry on the American Cancer Society's program of research, education and service." On the program will be the Society's State Crusade Chairman, Hal E. Hayward; Dick Satterfield, Executive Secretary; Miss Lucille Russ, Director of Education; and Mrs. Nell Wall, Director of Service.

The ways of mankind demonstrate, very clearly, that it does not take much hokum to elate the vanity of men or women.

Will you clean house with a "magic wand"?

Scientists say that some day you will. Electricity will attract dust and dirt to the wand as you wave it over the area to be cleaned.

You'll be living better electrically in countless other ways in the years ahead. Low-price electricity will open and close windows automatically, make beds, keep your home free of germs, clean clothing without soap.

This new electric age will call for low, more power. And this company, along with America's other independent electric companies, is building more power facilities right now.

You can count on plenty of electricity—always.

GREENVILLE RIVER TRAFFIC SHOWS INCREASE
Since a modest beginning back in 1941, Greenville has become an outstanding center for a towboat industry. More towboats operate from Greenville than any city from St. Louis to New Orleans. The people who man the towboats perform difficult and unspectacular work, yet it is vital to every person in this country. As Greenville has grown in population, it has simultaneously grown as a center in boat interests, and even greater growth is expected with a $15,000,000 lake-front development planned, and the building of the new $400,000 Washington County terminal. Current plans are for a $3,000,000 expenditure in a site along the lake front.

This is one time when either the Democrats or Republicans seem to know where we are going in the field of foreign policy.

Is TV A Waste Of Time?

By Rev. Edwin B. Frederick, author of "Your Place in TV"

THE AVERAGE American child, according to recent surveys, spends about 18 hours each week watching television. There are no available figures on adults, but when you consider that cities like Boston and Chicago have more TV sets than bathtubs and telephones, you can surmise that grown-ups are not too far behind.

MANY PESSIMISTS are unduly alarmed about this television trend. They talk about a "waste of time" and a "waste of money." They talk about a "waste of space" and a "waste of energy." They talk about a "waste of talent" and a "waste of time."

But you do not have to be a pessimist to ask questions about TV. The very fact that some consider it a waste of time should make you ask yourself what you and your children get—or lose—from your hours before the set.

"Am I satisfied with the programs?" is an important question to ask yourself. If the answer is "No," then it is time you did something about them.

Choral Group To Interpret Mozart Cantata Cinderella Romance To Be Spring Presentation

Under the direction of Father Poojenk S. V. D., the choral group of St. Joseph Academy will present in the school auditorium on March 21 "The Romance of Cinderella" at 8 p. m.

Catherine Matherny, Frances Matherny, Gaynell LaGasse, Annabella Garcia, Helen Gerlin and Inez Favre are the six soloists chosen from the group. Catherine Matherny, in the leading role of Cinderella, will sing the two numbers, "Cinderella" and "Cinderella at the Feast" while the group provides a humming background. The other soloists sing "Cinderella and The Prince."

While the choral group tells the story in Mozart harmony the soloists will pantomime the actions, Kay Cabell playing the Fairy Godmother will transform the ragged Cinderella, Flo Morris, into the beautiful maiden, played by Ollie Morris. Barbara Shipley portrays the handsome prince; Pat Horlock and Connie Bogran the heralds; Pat Bourgeois plays the tall lean sister, and Vicki Morgan the "plump" sister. Liz Tillotson is the guardian seeking the wearer of the slipper.

In the ball scene Joan LaFey, Ronnie, JoAnn Crasto, Elaine Noto, Frances Brenske, Elba Carias, Peggy Kergosien, Linda Auderer and Emilie Delph will dance a minuet.

The Cantata opens with an invitation from the heralds to attend the royal ball. After her sisters have departed, Cinderella is left sitting at the hearth when her fairy godmother appears and transforms her into a beautiful maiden, who later becomes the belle of the ball. As the clock is striking midnight the chase begins. True to the fairy tale ending Prince Charming finds and marries Cinderella.

Tina Giani, Sea Sprite artist, is in charge of the two stage settings, one the palace ballroom and the other Cinderella's home.

CONGRESSIONAL SIDELIGHTS

by CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLLIER
FEDERAL SPENDING AND TAXES

Last week the House passed a bill extending for an additional year the present 52 percent corporate income tax and certain excise taxes, including those on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, automobiles, et cetera. Had this action not been taken, these taxes would have reverted to the old taxes providing a lesser amount.

We handled the rule on the Floor and made the longest speech we have made in our service here in Congress. We took the position that these taxes should be permitted to expire, but since we were confronted with the highest Presidential budget in the history of the country in excess of 71 billion dollars, it was necessary to continue these taxes for an additional year.

Then at some length we reviewed government spending over the past twenty-five years. We showed how this spending had continuously gone up. For instance, President Roosevelt in his campaign against President Hoover called Hoover a spendthrift because at that time he was spending a little better than 4 billion dollars a year to run the Federal Government. Then Mr. Roosevelt started out with approximately a seven and one-half billion dollar spending. This was followed by President Truman who averaged 55 and one-half billion dollars per year during his administration. The Candidate Eisenhower promised a 60 billion-dollar budget but has now come up with a 71.3 billion-dollar budget.

We stressed the fact that all of this money must come out of the taxpayers of this country. Of course, there is, an impression among some people that the Government supports the people.

Then at some length we pointed out to the House that this budget could be cut by at least 5 billion dollars. There are very few items in the budget that cannot be cut. Foreign aid could not be cut out entirely, but certainly it should be cut by two and one-half billion dollars. Public housing should be cut out entirely and several hundred million dollars could be saved in this unnecessary program.

Moreover, there is no question but what several billion dollars could be cut from the national defense program without impairing the effectiveness of that program which calls for 22 percent of the total budget. Then again there is a item for 3 billion dollars for the emergency federal aid to state governments. Congress has been appropriating money for this purpose heretofore. Incidentally, I have repeatedly stated that our position would be to build schools in other sections of the country rather than to get any of this money for our segregated schools.

Finally, we emphasized the necessity of conserving our national system of conserving the President's budget. We called for the enactment of our bill, H. R. 2416, the McClellan-Colmer bill, which would provide for a Joint Committee on the Budget with a staff of experts for the House and the Senate Committees on Appropriations just as the President has on his Budget Commission. This would result in the Congressional Committee no longer being at the mercy of the executive department experts. It would in our judgment result in the saving of many billions of dollars each year.

We also referred to a formula which we laid down in a speech before the House five years ago which provided in part the following:

"First. Our legislative committees, as well as Committees on Appropriations, must cease reporting out bills except those which are absolutely essential to our economy and national defense.

"Second. Every member of this body must recognize that the objective of balancing the budget is his most important assignment.

"Third. Sectionalism, partisan politics, responsiveness to highly organized minorities, must give way to the national need for a sound financial policy.

"Fourth. Every dollar appropriated must be considered as carefully as if it were coming out of the pockets of the Members themselves as indeed the Member's proportionate share is.

"Fifth. Our congressional committees, particularly the appropriation committees, must be staffed with an adequate staff of experts equal in efficiency to the staffs of the various governmental agencies who appear before them seeking appropriations.

"Sixth. The Congress and the country must recognize that financial solvency is as important as military might in preparing ourselves against any potential foreign aggressor, a fact which our military captains should be made to understand.

"Seventh. Our foreign friends must be made to understand that there is a limit to the resources of America.

"Eighth. And finally, the citizens of the Republic, now conscious as never before of the burdens of taxation, must practice the doctrine of States' responsibility as well as States' rights. The practice of looking to Washington for Federal aid in civil responsibilities of their own must cease. They must realize that there is no State, county or city whose financial statement is not sounder than that of the Federal Government."

FARMERS PREPARE LAND FOR SPRING ROW CROPS

Heavy grazing of winter pastures and a beginning of land preparation for the 1957 row crops highlighted Mississippi's farming picture during the past week. Pasture grasses are making good growth and are allowing farmers to cut down on feeding. Being like weather in some counties for pasture and winter grazing crops. However, the warm weather may cause some trouble as some fruit trees are showing signs of bud break and the small grain may grow too fast and be damaged by late frosts.

Charges Made Against Ten Persons for Deliberate Woods Burning

State Forester C. B. Marlin said today that charges have been filed in Southeast Mississippi against ten persons for deliberate woods burning during the past five weeks.

All charges filed are under Chapter 222, Laws of 1954, which states that if any person willfully and feloniously sets on fire any woods, meadow, marsh, field or prairie not his own, he shall be guilty of a felony and shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to the State Penitentiary for not more than two years nor less than $200.00 nor more than $1,000 or both in the discretion of the Court.

The charges are based on three series of fires which occurred as follows: Pearl River County, 75 sets which burned 250 acres on February 8; Wayne County, 17 sets which burned 300 acres on March 8, and 100 sets which burned 1,000 acres on March 10 in Jeff Davis County.

Charges are filed against two persons in Pearl River, two in Wayne and six in Jeff Davis County.

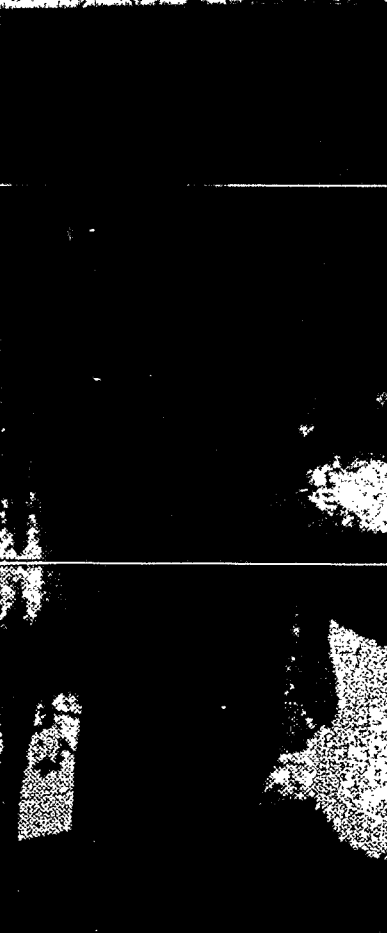

The total damage inflicted by these fires is approximately $7,750 of direct damage. The estimated loss to Mississippi's economy through the damage by these fires is over $50,000.

Marlin said that the Commission has received a great deal of very valuable assistance from citizens and public officials in the counties where the charges have been filed.

Mississippi citizens are becoming more aware of the important contributions being made by forestry to their livelihood and are assisting the Mississippi Forestry Commission in apprehending and prosecuting violators of the fire laws.

He went on to say that the deliberate destruction of Mississippi's raw material for forest industry which furnishes one-quarter of all income must be stopped at the earliest possible date and that those who insist on continuing these deliberate destructive fires shall be ferreted out at every opportunity and prosecuted for committing this felony.

"What Is 'Girls' State'?"

Girls State is a practical application of Americanism and good citizenship. The entire program is a non-partisan, non-political attempt to teach and inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and Country. The purpose of Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age in every constituent department of the American Legion; to afford them an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens; to inform them about the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government; and to help them grasp the meaning of some of the 804-R.
